BRYAN DISTINGUISHED VISITOR AT CORONATION

Declines to Talk Politics Now

ROYALTY AT TRONDHJEM

Silver Tongued Orator is Certain Democrats Will Adopt Progressive Plan

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

TRONDHJEM, Norway, June 21.—William Jennings Bryan arrived here this morning and attracted considerable enthusiasm among the Norwegian Americans who are here to view the coronation of King Haakon.

Mr. Bryan said he could not discuss politics, as he had been away so long. He said, however, that he was certain the democrats would adopt a progressive policy.

A number of Norwegian Americans called upon Bryan this afternoon. Bryan leaves Sunday for northern Norway. He will return and go to London, then take in the Rhine trip and inspect Gibraltar, whence he will sail for home.

Several anarchists, well known to the European police, were arrested uietly here to prevent a possible attack upon King Haakon. A number of bombs were seized.

The Danish royal yacht bearing Prince Christian of Denmark, Haakon's brother, and the steamer Tromp with the special Dutch embassy, entered the harbor this morning. The Dutch embassy was received at the palace this morning.

The American ambassador is Chas. Graves, and the king received the American embassy this morning. The minister of Sweden, assisted by Major Gibson of the army and Lieut. Commander Gibson of the navy and special guard of honor was provided for the Americans, and the king received them cordially.

The king and queen took luncheon aboard the British royal yacht.

ONLY ONE ROAD IS READY TO TELL

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Today was the day appointed for the president's railroads to appear before the interstate commerce commission to say what they wished to do in regard to their relations with coal companies.

The Pennsylvania was the only road responding. Fourth Vice President Thayer appeared and said that before Cassatt sailed for Europe he gave orders to abolish within a year all private car lines along the system.

Independents Prospering?

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Thayer at the interstate hearing tried to prove there was no tendency on the part of the Pennsylvania road to keep independent operators from opening the coal mines. He cited statistics showing many that independents were apparently prospering.

BERLIN, June 21.—The Kaiser has appointed his brother, Prince Henry of Prussia, commander in chief of the German navy.

FAIR GROUND NOT TO BE DAMAGED

If Injunction Succeeds Small Portion Will be Affected, Says Mahoney

In the opinion of City Attorney Mahoney, any action brought by the objectors to the use of the grounds acquired by the city for park purposes, and now used as the Interstate Fair grounds, will, if it succeeds, have to be limited to that portion of the grounds acquired by condemnation proceedings. As far as this portion is concerned, Mr. Mahoney thinks an injunction restraining the lease to the fair association will successfully lie. He thinks that under the law the claim of the heirs to restitution will fail.

The portion of the property acquired by condemnation proceedings is a small area, a few lots wide, extending along the western fence. If the action is persisted in, and the ground has to be abandoned by the association it will deprive the fair of the cattle and horse sheds located within the western fence, and extending east possibly far enough to take in a portion of the exposition building. It is hoped that when the protestors find the proportionately small space to which their claims legally apply, they will desist from legal action.

The portion of the grounds not secured by condemnation, Mr. Mahoney says, was acquired through tax deeds, and is the fee simple property of the city; no action such as those contemplated will affect this land. Mr. Mahoney said he had not traced the decisions, but that following analogy from the New York law, this is the case.

It is learned that about two years ago a lawyer from Dodge Center, Iowa, spent some time in the city looking up this property. He was in quest of that portion of the Ripley estate incorporated in the fair grounds. He represented the heirs, but took no action at that time. This was all tax title land, and his inaction supports the opinion of Mr. Mahoney that this land is immune from seizure.

ILLEGAL FISHERS FINED

Pleading guilty to illegal fishing liam Young, Louis Brockman and in county court this morning, Wil-Ben Hemshet were fined $25 and costs by Judge Brindley. The costs amounted to $29.40, the expense to each fisherman being approximately $35.

Mr. Kingsley has been after this party for a long time, their arrest being the result of a nice piece of detective work. Some time ago Kingsley met Brockman and said,

"What will you do when I catch you?"

Brockman replied,

"Pay my fine."

He did.

STORM CARRIES HORSE A HALF MILE AND SETS IT DOWN UNHURT

A peculiar freak of the recent cyclone which did so much damage in the surrounding country comes from St. Joseph ridge, according to Frank Meyer, a Hokah resident, who this week visited Mormon Coulee. On the St. Joseph's ridge near the home of his relatives a horse was carried about a quarter of a mile and landed uninjured, being yet tied to a piece of the plank of the barn manger. Mr. Meyer had photos of the large barn on his brother-in-law's farm, showing the building before and after the cyclone.

MORRIS ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT OF REGENTS

BIG LEAGUE HERE AFTER OUR STARS

American Ass'n. Man is Here to Grab Three of the Fastest

A representative of the St. Paul club, of the American association, is in La Crosse in an effort to purchase Konetchy, Mediwtzky and Schneiberg from the La Crosse league baseball club.

The name of the leaguer has not been ascertained, but President John Elliott of the local association admitted this afternoon that he was in the city with this purpose.

President Elliott was asked if the men would be given up by La Crosse, but declined to make a statement, indicating that they would not be.

"The St. Paul man is here," said Mr. Elliott, but he has made no definite proposition as yet. He will probably hang around for a couple of days and watch the team's work before he does anything."

It is not believed by local fans that the local club will give up Medwidtzky, Konetchy and Schneiberg, who are regarded as among the very strongest players in the entire Wisconsin league. It would undoubtedly spell disaster for the home team, were any such deal made.

Sims Succeeds Mr. Pray, Deposed

SALARY FIXED AT $3,000

Senator Morris Informs Regents of Purchase of Site; all Pleased

At a meeting of the board of normal school regents at Madison yesterday Senator Thomas Morris of this city was elected vice president of the board.

Other officers elected are:

President, J. A. Peacock, Oconomowoc; secretary, William Kittle, Madison.

Ex-Assemblyman Freeman H. Lord of River Falls was president the past year.

The board elected J. F. Sims as president of the normal school at Stevens Point in place of T. Pray. Mr. Sims has for years been the institute conductor connected with the River Falls normal school. The board fixed the salary at $3,000 a year.

Senator Morris informed the board that the council here had appropriated unanimously, the necessary $15,000 for the purchase of the site for the new normal and the announcement was entirely satisfactory to the board. The deed to the property purchased for the purpose will be turned over to the board as soon as the necessary papers can be sent to Madison.

The board completed it's work at Madison today and Senator Morris will return from Madison this afternoon.

Deeds Completed.

Last evening the city treasurer deposited the $15,000 appropriated by the city to pay for the site in the National bank. Today Attorney Winter deposited the deeds conveying the property to the city in the same bank. After the usual examination, the transfer will be consummated.

DOVER, Eng., June 21.—The Danish schooner Bertha sunk near the South Goodwin lightship in a collision with a Dutch tank steamer. Eight of the schooner's crew were drowned. The captain's son was the only survivor.

RAIN CHECKS NO GOOD TODAY

Protesting crowds left the baseball park today, after having gone there with rain checks issued by the baseball association. They went to the game today, understand that the rain checks were good. Many disputed the point, but finally paid their way. About fifty returned to the city, a number appearing at The Tribune office to register their complaint.

Over the telephone President Elliott offered the following explanation: the checks are given out at the gate, regardless of the weather. Under the rules of the National Association, these rain checks are good only in cases where the game was discontinued prior and up to the close of the 3d inning; in La Crosse it was decided to give the patrons an extra inning, the checks being good until the close of the 4th inning. The game yesterday was declared off in the 4th inning.

Several Radical Senators do not Like the Scheme for Meat Inspection

Washington, Jlne 21. — Senator Proctor called up in the senate the agricultural appropriation bill and made the usual motion for agreement to the request for a conference. He then said that there were two essential points of difference between the two houses on the meat inspection feature of the bill. One of these, he said, was the omission by the house of the senate provision requiring that the date of inspection be placed on cans containing meat and the other the transfer of the cost of inspection from the packers to the national treasury. He thought both unwise.

Beveridge Agrees with Proctor.

Beveridge agreed with Proctor as to the unwisdom of the house changes in the matters of date of labels and cost of inspection. Why, he asked, should the people pay for the packers' inspection and not the packers themselves, and said the government stamp would be worth $8,000,000 or $10,000,000 for advertising purposes. Looking at the matter in that light the cost of inspection would not be a burden because the inspection would be a great benefit. The cost would at the most be infinitesimal, 8 cents per head for cattle and 5 cents for swine. It would be impossible for packers to increase the price of meat or decrease that of stock on account of this slight charge.

"Simply Monstrous," Says Warren.

Warren defended the stock raisers and farmers, upon whom he said the burden would fall if the inspection costs were imposed by the bill upon the packers. He denounced as "simply monstrous" the proposition of Beveridge and Proctor that the packers should be required to advertise their business in a prescribed way. He also said that the legislation is aimed at the farmers and stock growers, and contended that instead of taxing them and the packers for the proposed inspection the entire country should pay the expense.

LODGE ATTACKS THE PACKERS

Bay State Man Is Rather Vitriolic in in His Remarks.

Lodge spoke for the senate provision, although he said it might be considered "audacious to do so, in view of the announcement that the house had perfected the measure and the president had accepted it." He pleaded especially for the dating of labels, because the public has the right to know what it is buying. "If canned meat is just as good five years after canning as it is five months afterwards, why it can't hurt these tender creatures, the packers, to have the public know the age of the article," he said.

He did not agree that the producers and the consumers would not feel the effect of the tax, for judging the future by the past the packers would find in a tax of a few mills an excuse for an increase of several cents a pound on the meat they sell and a similar decrease on the stock they buy. Discussin gthe group of men in control of the packing industry Lodge said their history has been of utter defiance of law and public opinion.

The men responsible for the meat packing and Standard Oil monopolies, said Lodge, had done more to advance socialism, anarchism, unrest and unwholesome conditions in the United States than all of the socialists in the world.

Treasure Chest Sinks When Found

LOUISVILLE, Jupne 21.—In the western end of the city has been found an iron box that refuses to be excavated. It is believed to contain treasure. Rev. G. E. Scott, 1534 West Kentucky street, was spading in his front garden today when about half a foot under the surface he struck an iron box, nearly two feet across the top. He cleared away the dirt from the sides and reached for his find, when the mysterious box sank a few inches lower. The hole was enlarged on all sides, but the same result followed. Scott has now reached a depth of twenty feet, and is apparently no nearer the box than when he started. A party will assemble tomorrow prepared to gain possession of the chest.

SUGGESTS BOARD OF ARBITRATION

(Special Tribune Dispatch.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 21.—The mass convention of millers under the auspices of the Millers' National association is in convention here. Last night over 600 had signed the official register.

Suggests Board of Arbitration.

While the yesterday morning session was taken up with the address of the president, dealing with the conditions of the federation, and the outlook for the milling business in a general way, in the afternoon the convention got down to business, and for several hours discussed the subjects of "Arbitration, its Scope and Usefulness," as inspired by a report submitted by B. J. Rothwell, president of the Bay State Milling company, Lawrence, Mass. Mr. Rothwell advocated the appointment of a board of arbitration, consisting of two millers and two wholesale buyers, these four to select a fifth member. To this board all disputes between the manufacturer and purchaser o flour were to be submitted before an appeal should be made to the courts. He declared that the miller who failed to submit to the findings of such board would lose his standing among his fellow millers.

Homer Baldwin, Youngstown, O., said to be the oldest miller in the United States, who began business in 1848, was invited to a seat of honor upon the stage, which he took amid great applause.

SUICIDES TO ESCAPE INSANITY

PEORIA, June 21.—Having diagnosed his own case as dispassionately as he would that of a patient, Dr. Emerson M. Sutton of this city came to the conclusion that he was becoming insane and committed suicide by shooting. Fear of the loss of his mind is the only reason known for the act.

Dr. Sutton was one of the best known physicians of the city. He had a large practice and overwork caused him to break down. He showed that he was feeling the effects of his collapse. He said today to his wife:

"I feel that I am almost insane. My heart is all right, but my head is nearly killing me."

Shortly after luncheon he entered his office, went to a drawer in his desk for his revolver, and, walking to the washroom, fired a bullet through his head. His business partner, Dr. H. H. Whitten, found his body lying against the door.

ABOLISHER OF NOOSE IN WISCONSIN IS DEAD

EDGERTON, Wis., June 21.—Dr. C. R. Head of Albion, Wis., author of the bill abolishing capital punishment in the state of Wisconsin, and a practicing physician for fifty-eight years, died yesterday, aged 85.

Dr. Head was born in New York state in August, 1820. He received his degree as doctor of medicine in New York in 1842, and came immediately to Wisconsin and opened his office at Albion.

When the civil war broke out Dr. Head was appointed provost surgeon and after the war he became secretary of the state board of pensions at Madison.

In the early 60's Dr. Head was elected to the legislature and served several terms. He drafted and introduced the bill which abolished capital punishment in Wisconsin.

Dr. Head was the founder of Albion academy. The brick used in the construction of the two college buildings were made on his farm at his own expense. Work at the college was called off because of lack of material. Dr. Head, who was then building a residence, sent his material to the college so it could he completed without delay. He was president of the board of trustees of the academy from its inception until the college passed into private hands.

Dr. Head is survived by his wife and two sons, Dr. R. L. Head of Madison and M. A. Head of Albion. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at Albion.

The most imposing wonder of amusement growth today is the circus. The greatest development of the idea is due to Ringling Brothers. Today it takes eighty-five cars to transport their enormous enterprise. The tents alone cover 12 acres of ground space, and the largest canvas will comfortably seat 14,000 people. In the menagerie tent are sheltered forty elephants and 108 cages, dens and lairs. A baby elephant, American born, is the priceless pet of this department. Six hundred and seventy-five horses are carried, and the men, women and children employed aggregate 1,280. To move this stupendous institution each day without delay or confusion indicates a most wonderful system. Military chiefs at home and from other countries have studied and lauded the wonderful discipline that pervade s the Ringling Brothers' shows and pronounced it the best governed amusement institution in the world.

GAMBLE WITH DEATH.

Ringling Brothers' Latest European Sensation.

The dare-devil feats of circus invention have reached the pinnacle of human achievement in the blood curdling performance of Herr Fuss with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows. This intrepid performer rides a bicycle down an almost sheer incline, and when within thirty feet of the ground shoots into space like a rocket, turns a complete somersault, and, seated in the saddle of his wheel alights safely upon a distant platform and rides proudly away into the hippodrome track. The downward plunge is fraught with the greatest peril, and the slightest deviation in the poise of man and wheel in the lightning flight would precipitate direst disaster.

In the blood curdling flght of Herr Fuss, down the almost perpendicular plane, only an iron nerve and infallible skill stande between him and tragic death. The act is one of unprecedented daring, and calls for the quality of courage which is found only in the greatest deeds of human triumph and sacrifice. In spite of the fact that the performance is amazingly hazardous, the frail structure of the road to life or death, the highly polished wheel, scrutinizing attendants, terrific gap, and statuesque rider combine to fascinate the observer, and as the seconds draw near for the awful journey into the gaping chasm of danger, every heart is pinched with anxiety, which finds relief only when the cheers of the crowds tell the race is run. Herr Fuss' ride made a tremenduous sensation abroad, and was imported by Ringling Brothers for a feature with their great circus this season.

THE MOUNTAIN AND THE SQUIRREL.

Grant Reynolds, a square and vigorous young businessman who has the faculty of making good wherever he goes, and who was one of the original stockholders in The Tribune, recently wrote The Tribune an open letter, a part of which we quote, as follows:

"You are certainly destined to wield great influence in your field; and being the official paper you certainly must have grown in a very substantial manner. Anyway there is no disputing how you stand with the public.

"I have not seen the Leader for over a year until a few days ago. A friend mailed me a marked copy. That the McGregor stockholders had increased the capital stock of the E. R. Barron Co. eighty thousand dollars, same to be used in improvements. I think they better sell out of the gas business and advertise in the Tribune—if you have room for them. * * * I suppose the Chronicle still catches all the trains. How the people in the surrounding country must grab it. When they can get the Record-Herald at the same cost and hour. * * * There seems to be no question but the merchants—one or two excepted—are with you—and they should be. You certainly have saved them a lot of money.

"Forge ahead and remember this is a very unfashionable season for the 'pleasant and smiling grafter.'"

On the following evening, Mr. Gelatt devoted space in the editorial page of the Cargill-Gelatt evening organ to the following exhibition of by-freight-via-the-Green-Bay humor:

"Somebody must have taken Mr. Reynolds' Muck Rake stock off his hands."

Now did Mr. Gelatt think that because Charley Felber, Mr. Reynolds' old business associate, testified that his common stock was worth 10 cents, and "ruled from 30 to 40 cents, and that he sold his TO HIS FRIENDS for 50 cents, that Mr. Reynolds must also have sold out any stock of what-so-ever description he might own? Or did he think that because he (Mr. Gelatt) testified he had traded his common stock to Mr. Cargill, and Mr. Cargill had overlooked an opportunity to MAKE AN AFFIDAVIT that he does not own The Chronicle, Mr. Reynolds must be out of the newspaper business?

It is unfortunate for Mr. Gelatt that, replying to the cutting letter of Mr. Reynolds, every word of which was like an impaling arrow to the bland publisher, he could say nothing more damaging than the presumption that Mr. Reynolds had "sold his stock in The Tribune." Really, Mr. Gelatt reminds one of the man who hunted the snark and caught a boojum.

STRADDLING THE BARBED WIRE FENCE.

Mayor Dunne, of Chicago, is experiencing the trials and tribulations inevitably encountered by one who seats himself astride of a fence. In Mayor Dunne's case, it appears to be a barbed wire fence.

Mayor Dunne was elected on a municipal ownership ticket. He proceeded to compromise himself to the extent of losing the respect and support of those who elected him, and he has not broken his pledges sufficiently to satisfy the public utility crowd. An attack he recently made upon the working organizations of Chicago, has won him a damning by faint praise from the Chicago Chronicle, the rottenest of Chicago's trust-owned newspapers, which says:

"It is true that Mayor Dunne has not enforced the laws with thoroughness and he still manifests a lingering hankering for municipal ownership, but the fact that he has not been completely subservient to lawbreakers and that he has abated something of his 'ownership' fanaticism are considerations which constitute a claim upon popular approval when the mayor is attacked by the Chicago Federation of Labor. Mayor Dunne has not done the best he could, but neither has he done as badly as he might have done."

That is the best he gets from the trusts, and it is much better than he will ever get again from the popular faction in local politics of the metropolis. His is certainly the fate of the man who straddles the fence.

CIVILIZING THE WALTZ.

"To be or not to be, that is the question."

One by one the joys of life are taken from us, until the whole world says with Hamlet, "To be, or not to be."

A Sunday Chicago newspaper says that in the future it will be bad form to propose. How we are to get a girl to wed us, Heaven only knows, but one thing is certain—that we must not propose. The law forbids us to seize her vi et armis, and a wedding can't just happen.

Months ago some woman, indigent and past forty no doubt, put the kibosh on kissing. Germs! Ugh! The hygenic formula insists that we cut out the osculatory enthusiasm. Nix on the spooning.

And now, to clip off the last of the dog's tail, The National Association of Dancing Teachers has concluded there shall be no more hugging in the waltz. What damnable ingenuity for the invention of torture do these men possess! Just the "poetry of motion," they say, is to be the pleasure of the orthodox dance. No mistake about it. No possible evasion. Here it is, as it came under a New York dispatch:

"There must be no more squeezing of partners in the waltz.

The United Professional Masters of Dancing of America in convention assembled have decreed that partners in this most seductive dance must remain at arm's length from each other. The waltz without a hug has now come to take its place beside the cocktail without whisky."

Meyer Forst, speaking for the association, explained the views of the dancing masters this way:

"Only the other evening in my academy a young lady was waltzing like that, her head almost on her partner's shoulder. As soon as the music stopped I stepped up and threw my arm around her neck.

"'Oh, Mr. Forst,' she exclaimed.

"'Oh, Mr. Forst,' I said mockingly after her. 'Why do you say that now? Simply beacuse the music has stopped? What difference does that make? If I am not to hug you when there is no music I should not hug you when there is music. That is not the way to waltz.'"

The irreverent reporter interrupted to ask why one would waltz at all, if not for the opportunity of hugging. Forst replied that the "poetry of motion" should amply reward the dancer. The reporter concluded that Meyer Forst is a frost.

* * * *

If there is real cause for regret in this decision of the dancing masters, it lies in the fact that there is little hope of their recommendation being put into effect. No greater victory for morality could be won that the elimination of hugging from the waltz. It does more to lead young people astray than any other agency excepting, perhaps, drink. The waltz has become a license to indulge in conduct that society would not condone under any other conditions. Indiscriminate and vulgar social relations of this sort should be eliminated from the code of civilization.

THE OBLIGATION OF PETITION SIGNERS.

There seems to be some question among prospective voters at the coming primaries as to the extent to which the signing of a primary petition commits the signer to vote for and support the person whose petition he has signed. The assertion has been so frequently made, that there exists a moral obligation to do so, that many believe this is true, while the assertion that there is actually a legal contract involved in the signature of the petition has been repeated so that often some credence is given to this absurd proposition.

The fact is this: the signer to a petition is presumed to have seriously considered the matter, and to have made in good faith the assertion that he INTENDS to support the candidate. But, he may HONESTLY CHANGE HIS MIND. Why not? Suppose Brown and Jones are out for an office, and there are no other candidates. Suppose you think better of Brown than of Jones. Naturally, you sign Brown's petition, incorporating the statement that you INTEND to support him, which you honestly do. Supposing that later on Smith comes out, and it is YOUR HONEST CONVICTION that Smith is much the best man of all. Are you bound to continue to support and to vote for Brown? No! You DID honestly INTEND to vote for Brown, but now that you HONESTLY think that Smith is a better man, it is not only YOUR RIGHT, but your bounden DUTY to support Smith.

A wise amendment to the primary law could be passed, fixing the date up to which candidates may declare their intentions of seeking office, and after which no candidates may enter the race. That would permit cautious men to wait until all announcements had been made before committing themselves.

THE STATE PRESS

Hard Choice.

Whom do the Republicans of Wisconsin want for governor? A patriot, a man who has made office holding his life's work, or a North Wind from Jackson county? The voters seem to be up against it, don't they?—Waupaca Post.

Hope for Bryan.

A good many republicans have announced their intention of voting for Bryan in 1908, in case he is a candidate for the presidency. In Wisconsin the Republicans owe the democrats a good return of this kind for the Democratic votes that were given to La Follette.—Two Rivers Chronicle.

It's a New Game.

We are told that the primary law would do away altogether with the pre-nomination setting-up-pins and stringing-of-wires. How about it? Was there ever such scheming and maneauvering and combining among the office hunters as there is now? And the end is not yet, for the primary date is almost three months away.—Stoughton Hub.

As to the Democrats.

Several of the La Follette papers in the state have endorsed the program set forth by Senator Merton in his announcement of candidacy for the Democratic nomination, as good enough to even do for a Republican platform. Does this mean that some of the "fair- minded" Republicans are planning to go over to the Democrats in case their own party fails to give them all they want?—Oshkosh Northwestern.

A "Wail" for Bryan

They call it a "boom for Bryan." This is not the proper title nor does it convey the correct idea, because a "boom" is a somewhat forced recognition from external sources. The people of America are at last turning to Mr. Bryan for much needed and long delayed relief. They know that he is sincere, that his government policy is correct and that his marked ability will insure its enforcement. Bryan, today, is recognized as the foremost American citizen, because of his integrity and matchless skill.—Juneau Telephone.

The Candidates.

The Free Press a few mornings since tried to perform the oil act over the three candidates for governor. It was awkwardly done yet very sincerely to all appearances. The organ would impress its readers with the thought that Lenroot, McGillivray and Davidson are all good men and that "reform" would be safe with either, and hence there is no cause for worry. "They are all ours," says the Free Press gushingly. It reminds us of the little girl who tried to quiet a quarrel which her two young brothers had engaged in over the ownership of a pony their father had given to the children. "Now, boys," said she, "I'll tell you how it is. Tommy, it is your pony; and Dicky, it is your pony; and it is my pony. In fact, it is all our pony."—Whitewater Register.

Kuestermann's Chance.

It is altogether probable that Mr. Kuestermann will receive the undivided support of the half breed element in the district which, although not in control, is plenty strong enough to put up a good fight for candidates. Should Kuestermann be able to draw from the stalwart faction in the district any considerable number of votes he will make a formidable opponent for Mr. Minor.—Green Bay Gazette.

WANTS $200,000 TO LET RAILWAY RUN THROUGH LAND

RACINE, Wis., June 21.—The condemnation suit of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric railway company against the Jeffrey Auto company of Kenosha came up in the Circuit court yesterday on an appilcation of the railway company for a writ of assistance to place them in possession of the right of way through the Jeffrey company property. Commissioners placed the damage at $50,000. The company put up the cash in court, but the Jeffrey company swore the damage was $200,000 and refused to permit the building of the line without a large bond in addition to the cash given. The attorney for the Jeffrey company suggested that the bond be $50,000 and Judge Belden will decide today. The railway company has built its line to the fences of the Jeffrey company.

JUST LIFE

An Awakening.

I used to think that I had lost the only girl for me,
But I was wrong!
I used to think without her I could never happy be,
But I was wrong!
I used to crave her warm caress,
To love her gentle tenderness,
To think with her lay happiness,
But I was wrong.

I used to think she held the key to all the joys in life,
But I was wrong!
In fact I often contemplated making her my wife,
But I was wrong!
I used to dote on all she'd say,
To love her timid, wistful way,—
In fact I love it still—today—
But I was wrong!

I used to think that she was very unsophisticated,
But I was wrong!
To think that everything I loathed
she surely also hated,
But I was wrong!
I thought she was so innocent
She did not know the red-rose scent;
That I knew when and where she went,
But I was wrong.

I used to think the world was mine
when she was near,
But I was wrong!
I saw rivals by the hundreds in my fancy and my fear,
But I was wrong!
I thought if any other got her,
All the universe would totter,—
I an ink-spot, death the blotter,
but I was wrong.

I used to lose near all my sleep just worrying about her,
But I was wrong!
In turn I wept and prayed and swore at the life I led without her,
But I was wrong;
I called the Fates bad names, unkind,
I raved because I could not find
Ought else in life that I could mind,
But I was wrong.

As years sped by my aching heart still bled and pained for her,
But I was wrong!
Nothing could my fancy from my idoled dream deter,
For I was wrong!
Now in life I find, galore,
Things to strive for worth far more,
So I drop my dream to live once more,
For I was wrong!

ALDERMAN JOJADE WANTS ANOTHER OFFICER

Alderman Jojade, of the north side, has become instrumental in a plea to the police department for another North La Crosse patrolman. It is said that the north side people feel that, owing to the meeting of so many railroads with extensive yards there, there should always be at least two officers available for duty there.

It is understood that, with its present force, the police department will be forced to reply that the arrangement cannot be made.

PULAJANES RAID ANOTHER VILLAGE

MANILA, June 21.—The Pulajanes, under Bandit Pascor, attacked the town of Varauen and killed five constabulary, wounded five and captued all the remainder except Liqot, in command.

They burned the municipal records and fled carrying the dead and wounded. The constabulary were taken wholly unawares and were surrounded by the enemy. They fought valiantly until overwhelmed by numbers.

The loss of the Pulajanes is said to have been heavy, Pascor being among the dead. As the outlaws left the village Lilut Johnson with a force from a neighboring post appeared and started in pursuit.

CZAR DON'T DARE DISSOLVE DOUMA

ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—It is understood the government desists in its determination to dissolve the Douma on account of the attitude of the soldiers and guard regiments, particularly at the czar's palace.

It is said the soldiers have declared their unwillingness to fight against their own people in the event of disorders arising from the dissolution of parliament.

Town clerks have been requested to furnish the state with information concerning all roadways in their district, and their condition.

APPROPRIATION FOR WISCONSIN MILITIA DOUBLED

Congress Grants $,2,000,000 Military Bill Which Will Give Badger Guardsmen $52,000

Word has been received in the city by telegraph from Congressman Esch at Washington stating that the bill carrying an appropriation of $2,000,000 for the national guard of the different states had been passed by the house and was ready for the president's approval.

The bill doubles the former appropriation and will give the Wisconsin guard $52,000 a year instead of $26,000 as heretofore. This government aid will come in the form of equipment for the guard and the first requisition by Gen. Boardman will probably be for clothing. The state appropriation for the guard is $$130,000 a year, making the total funds for the guard $182,000 a year.

FRAUD IN MORTAR CAUSE OF EARTHQUAKE DISASTER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—"Dishonest mortar—a corrupt conglomeration of sea sand and lime—was responsible for nearly all the earthquake damage in San Francisco," says Dr. T. Nakamura, professor of architect of the Imperial University ofTokio and one of the most distinguished members of the committee dispatched to this city by the Japanese government to investigate the effects of trembler and fire.

Dr. Nakamura has completed his labors and will sail to report his conclusions to his gevernment.

"I find," said Dr. Nakamura to-day, "that much of the damage to San Francisco from the earthquake was due to poor mortar and faulty construction, and the greater part of the damage to class A buildings by fire was the misguided use of hollow tiling and so-called fire blocks instead of concrete. It is an easy matter, I have found, to design a building that will not only be earthquake proof, but practically fireproof.

"There has developed as a result of the earthquake in San Francisco great prejudice against brick buildings. However, they are largely employed in Japan, where earthquakes of greater severity than the one felt in this city are not uncommon. The secret of their success, however, lies in the fact that good mortar is used. The mortar should be composed eother of one part cement to two parts of sand or one part cement, three of lime and five of sand. The bricks should be thoroughly wet before being laid, and when the mortar has set under these conditions a wall becomes practically one stone."

CALUMET VOTERS ARE FOR BRYAN

CHILTON, Wis., June 21.—Pursuant to call the democratic county convention met yesterday and was called to order by William A. Hume, chairman of the democratic county committee. After the organization Louis Rupp of Charlestown was elected chairman, and George Hicks of Stockbridge was elected secretary of the convention. The convention then passed several resolutions endorsing William J. Bryan, democratic candidate for president of the United States, condemning the primary election laws and demanding more powers for the state railroad commission to regulate the railroad rates in the state. The convention then elected seven delegates to the state convention to be held at Milwaukee. The convention then adjourned.

WEDDINGS CRIPPLE SCHOOLS IN OHIO

CLEVELAND, June 21.—Cupid has made great inroads upon the teachers of the Cleveland public schools. Within a week more than one hundred young women have resigned, to become brides, and the board of education and Superintendent Elson fear they will not be able to fill all the vacancies before the next term begins. "Never before have I ever heard of the public schools becoming a matrimonial agency on such an extensive scale. This breaks all records," said the superintendent.

WASHINGTON WAS A POOR CHRISTIAN

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., June 21.—At the unveiling of a tablet to Washington in the chapel reared here to his memory Rev. Dr. David M. Steele, rector of the church of St. Luke and the Epiphany, Philadelphia, attacked the first president's religious life. He said the "Father of his Country" preferred card-playing and fox hunting to religious activity on Sunday. "In his accounts," said Dr. Steele, "we find records of his interest in cards, clubs, lotteries, dogs, distilleries, fox hunting, fishing, raffles and agriculture, yet not one word has he to say about religion."

Mrs. L. H. Grieser and daughter, Leona, have returned to Duluth after visiting friends in the city.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. SPENDS NIGHT IN TERROR IN TREE OVER WOLVES

CALUMET, Mich., June 21.—After spending a night of terror in the swaying branches of a tree while a large pack of wolves howled beneath him, Justice of the Peace Isaiah Blythe of Mass City was rescued by a searching party today. That he was not held a prisoner by the ferocious beasts until overcome by hunger is due to the efforts of his friends, who spent many hours hunting through the thick forests of Ontonagon county for him.

In company with Dr. W. B. Hanna, physician of the Mass Consolidated mine, and Tom Wilcox, son of the superintendent, Mr. Blythe started on a fishing trip Saturday night. Dr. Hanna and Wilcox became separated from Mr. Blythe and returned home without him, thinking he would follow. When it was learned that he had not appeared searching parties were organized. The fears for the safety of Mr. Blythe were all the greater because of the large number of timber wolves in Ontonagon county this season. Men from Mass City and Greenland went to the Firesteel river and adjacent woods in the hunt.

"I sincerely hope I may never be called upon to undergo such an experience as last night's," said Mr. Blythe. "In some way I became separated from Dr. Hanna and Wilcox, and lost my way in the woods. Night came on, and soon I heard the cry of the wolves coming nearer and nearer.

"Without weapons, I was forced to take to a tree. I found a place in the branches where I thought I was safe, but there still was danger of falling to the ground through exhaustion. The wolves soon tracked me to the base of the tree, and all night long they circled about the trunk, leaping into the lower branches and trying in every way to get at me.

"My perch was high enough to be out of their reach, but I was without food and a stupor crept over me as the night wore on until I was afraid that I might lose my hold and tumble into the midst of the pack. The weird howls of the furious animals wore on my nerves, and as day dawned it was the greatest relief that I heard shots and shouts of the men who were searching for me. I replied as loudly as I could, and was fortunate in making myself heard. As the rescurers came nearer the wolves slunk off into the timber."

AT THE THEATRES

Mr. and Mrs. Cal. Stewart at the Bijou this week are a couple who are artists in every thing that the word implies. Mr. Stewart entered the theatrical line when a child, later deserting it for railroading where he became a locomotive engineer and it is in connection with this branch of the service that he tells a good story. Mr. Stewart was in the employ of the Wabash road running out of Decatur, Ill., when an Uncle Tom Cabin show came along. They had two cars, one for dogs, donkeys and scenery, and one for living apartments of the company. This was before the days of the interstate commerce law and the railroad could charge what they pleased. They decided to give the company an engine and crew to take them over the lines of the system. Mr. Stewart was selected as the engineer and was givn one of the old time wood burner engines. There was no injector to force water in the boiler and it could not be done unless the engine was in motion. So each stop Mr. Stewart would pull the cars into a side track and leave room for to run the engine up and down to get water in the boiler. The crew consisted of a fireman and engineer and a Swede watchman whose duties were to look after the engine at night. One evening Mr. Stewart was watching the performance and asked the manager how many people he had playing the part of Phineas, which is the old man part, and he in turn was asked what he knew of the show business, when Mr. Stewart informed him he was once a performer himself, playing principally old men and rural characters. A deal was made whereby Mr. Stewart was to play the part of Phineas. One evening before going to the theatre in looking over his engine a leak was found and all that could be done was to plug it with wood which he did and told the Swede to do likewise in case of another leak. In the last part of the show that evening when Phineas in holding Legree at bay with a gun and had just said, "Verily I say unto you, I am going to shoot where thou art standing," when the Swede watchman put his head out in full view of the audience and said so all could hear him, "Mastar Stewart a tank you battor kum down to das har eyine she ban leak lak hal again."

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

HUMILIATING—VILE—DESTRUCTIVE

The very name, Contagious Blood Poison, suggests contamination and dread. It is the worst disease the world has ever known; responsible for more unhappiness and sorrow than all others combined. Nobody knows anything about the origin of this loathsome trouble, but as far back as history goes it has been regarded the greatest curse of mankind.

No part of the body is beyond the reach of this powerful poison. No matter how pure the blood may be, when the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters, the entire circulation becomes corrupted, the humiliating symptoms begin to appear, and the sufferer finds himself diseased from head to foot with the vilest and most destructive of all poisons. Usually the first symptom is a small sore or ulcer, so insignificant that it rarely ever excites suspicion, but in a short while the skin breaks out in a red rash, the glands of the groin swell, the throat and mouth ulcerate, the hair and eye-brows come out, and often the body is covered with copper-colored spots, pustular eruptions and sores.

There is hardly any limit to the ravages of Contagious Blood Poison; if it is not driven from the blood it affects the nerves, attacks the bones, and in extreme cases causes tumors to form on the brain, producing insanity and death. No other disease is so highly contagious; many an innocent person has become infected by using the same toilet articles, handling the clothing, by a friendly handshake or the kiss of affection from one afflicted. But no matter how the disease is contracted, the sufferer feels the humiliation and degradation that accompany the vile disorder.

Dear Sirs:—I had a friend who had a bad case of Contagious Blood Poison and was in a terrible condition. He tried all the medicines he could hear of, but nothing did him any good. He went to Hot Springs but it was like the other treatments he had used, and he was in despair of a cure when he heard of S. S. S. After taking it for awhile the sores all healed, his hair stopped falling out, and, continuing with it, he soon found himself cured entirely of this hideous disease. JOHN LESLIE,
Rockford, Ill. 719 W. State St.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever, I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S. and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely. W. R. NEWMAN.
Hamlet, N. C.

Mercury and Potash are commonly used in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, but these minerals cannot cure the disease—they merely mask it in the system. All external evidences may disappear for awhile, but the treacherous poison is at work on the internal members and tissues, and when these minerals are left off the disease returns worse than before, because the entire system has been weakened and damaged by the strong action of the Mercury and Potash. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the blood, neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, strengthens the different parts of the body, tones up the system, and cures this humiliating and destructive disorder permanently.

The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S. and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood and the sufferer is completely restored to health. S. S. S. is not an experiment; it is a success. It has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, many of which had given the Mercury and Potash treatment, Hot Springs, etc., a thorough trial, and had almost despaired of ever being well again. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and does not injure the system in the least. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. If you are suffering with this despicable and debasing disease, get it out of your blood with S. S. S. before it does further damage. We will gladly send our book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice, without charge, to all who write.

Captain Wellman commanded company A, Thirty-third Indiana infantry. He was followed by Dr. Charles Seaton, of this city, and he, in turn, by W. A. Dilley, of Jefferson township, this county, all of them still hearty and vigorous, although Wellman is 77 years old.

Captain Wellman is a veteran of two wars, as he served in the Mexican war as a member of the Fourth Indiana infantry. He was also an active participant in the terrible scenes in Kansas during the border ruffian days. He was a Free Soiler, and one day he was captured by the border ruffians, and was on the point of being strung to the doorpost of his own home, when he made the sign of distress as a Mason, and was saved by the leader of the gang, who ordered him to lose no time in leaving Kansas.

CROWD AT TRIAL OF CRUEL WIFE OF BREWER WANT HER LYNCHED

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 21. — Mrs. Emma Kauffmann, wife of a brewer, was held for trial in November as the result of her preliminary examination on a charge of cruel treatment of Agnes Potreis, 17 years old, who was her servant, and who died of the injuries given her, as alleged, by Mrs. Kauffmann. The session of the court was brief. As soon as Mrs. Kauffmann and her husband and counsel arrived in the court room State's Attorney Orr asked that the defendant be committed to the custody of the sheriff pending her trial at the next term of the circuit court. Mrs. Kauffmann's attorney made no objection and she was bound over.

Court Room Was Packed.

Brief as the preliminary hearing was there was a number of sensational episodes immediately prior to and following the hearing. Notwithstanding that the hearing was not to be held until 10 a. m. crowds began gathering in and around the court room as early as 8 o'clock. Before 9 every available foot of space in the court room, in the doorways and in the hallways adjoining, was packed with a dense mass of people, a great part of the crowd being composed of women, many in fashionable attire, society circles being well represented. Women stood on chairs, boxes, and on everything that gave them a clear view of the proceedings.

Defendant Vigorously Hissed.

When the carriage occupied by Mrs. Kauffmann and her husband drove up in front of the Auditorium the sidewalk was closely packed with a dense mass of humanity, and it was with difficulty that policemen forced a passage through the crowd so that Mr. and Mrs. Kauffmann could make their way to the court room. While the party was crowding its way through the hallway to the court room Mrs. Kauffmann was vigorously hissed by the spectators, the hisses coming largely from the women in the crowd. Mrs. Kauffmann is of dark complexion, and although she wore a veil it could be seen that her face was as white as a sheet of paper.

MOB SPIRIT WAS ON HAND

After being in the court room for a perid of only a few minutes Mrs. Kauffmann was again escorted to the sidewalk, but the carriage had not returned, and after a short painful wait Mrs. Kauffmann, her husband, and others of the little party started across the street to a livery stable, where they sought refuge. The crowd packed closely about them, and for a moment there were fears for Mrs. Kauffmann's safety. Cries of "Lynch her" were heard. The Kauffmann party engaged a livery rig in the establishment where they had taken refuge, and while the crowd was packed closely around one of the double doors the rig dashed at full speed from another door, thus taking the crowd by surprise.

The crowd hastened after the carriage, and followed it a short distance, in the meantime giving vent to shouts and derisive cries.

St. Paul, June 21.—A special to The Pioneer-Press says: "After a conference between the attorneys it was decided that Mrs. Kauffmann should be taken to jail. Kauffmann accompanied his wife to the jail, and his distress over the change in the fortunes of his family was pitiful. It is probable that in view of the excited condition of the public the application for bail for Mrs. Kauffmann will not be made for a few days.

Late in the afternoon a physician was called to the jail to attend Mrs. Kauffmann, who had collapsed as the result of her trying experience in the court room. The police arrested a stranger who was intoxicated, and who had been urging the excited crowd on the street to lynch Mrs. Kauffmann, he offering to assume the leadership of the mob in the proposed attack on the jail. The excitement is subsiding.

While running on his way to the store yesterday afternoon Edwin Singer, son of H. M. I. Kinnear who took three stitches.

The daughter of Alderman B. H. Valentine had smashed a nursing bottle on the walk a short time before the lad ran onto it. He began to scream and attracted several persons to the scene who carried him into the office of Dr. Kinnear across the street. Rev. W. J. Turner was the first to arrive and tried to stop the blood with his handkerchief which he bound tightly around the boy's foot. Major Stevenson arrived about this time and he tied his handkerchief above the ankle and twisted it with his cane. The boy was weak from loss of blood when the doctor arrived. He is resting easily today but will probably be laid up for some time.

A GREAT CONVENTION

Chairman Manson Says Democratic State Convention will be Largest in History of Wisconsin.

(From the Wausau Daily Herald)

"From advices received up to this time," said Chairman Manson today to a Herald reporter, "I think I am justified in saying that the state platform convention, to be held in Milwaukee on June 27th and 28th will be the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of democrats held in many years, and I can readily understand why this should be. The democratic press of the state has been practically unanimous in favor of holding a convention; not only this, but the chairman of the democratic county committees, with one or two exceptions, have strongly favored it. Leading democrats throughout Wisconsin have urged it and will be a large, deliberate and representative body of democrats, who will give sincere expression to democratic thought and principle.

"There is a unanimity of purpose and action on the part of Wisconsin democrats today which is decidedly inspiring. We are not looking to any faction of republicanism for advice or or counsel, and we are making no unholy alliances with any clan or clique of that party. I have reasons for believing that the democrats throughout the state believe this.

"No, there is nothing else. There is no cut and dried platform, nor is there any set program to go by. It will be a democratic convention and it will speak out authoratively, because it will be representative of the democracy of the state. I firmly believe that an affirmative, straight-from-the shoulder, democratic platform will issue therefrom, such as the candidates of the democratic party, chosen at the primaries, can heartily endorse and adopt."
